Thousands of Them Participate in the Annual Parade

THROUGH MILWAUKEE STREETS.

General Sherman Reviews the Boys in Blue from a Grand Stand—First Actual Work of the Encampment—Reunion of Many Corps and Posts.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 28.—Gen. W. T. Sherman sat for over three hours in the blazing sun on the reviewing stand in Washington square, while the boys in blue filed by. The annual parade of the Grand Army was a brilliant success, and it was rendered doubly interesting from the fact that it may be the last that "Old Tecumseh" will witness. It was the hottest day of the year, and the sun beat down with remorseless fury, but the veterans turned out in force, and the line of march, a distance of two and a half miles, was packed with spectators. Nearly 20,000 of the spectators had arrived since sundown of Monday.

REUNION HEADQUARTERS.
(Court House.

Mrs Logan, escorted by Maj Veasey, of Vermont, and Mrs. Alger and daughter, occupied the front seats of the reviewing stand, and the widow of the ex-senator and general was accorded an enthusiastic greeting by the veterans as they passed by. The parade started at a few minutes past 10 and the rear had not reached the stand at 1 o'clock. The Missouri delegations occupied the right of line, the vexed question having been conceded by the Illinoisans.

GEN. ALGER.

She Man's Post Cheer the General.

Gen. Sherman stood up, bare-headed as Ransom post of St. Louis, his own post, marched by, and there was a suspicious moisture in his eyes when they stopped and gave him a three times three. Nine out of every ten of the bands rendered "Marching Through Georgia," as they neared the stand and his patience was sorely tried.

Gen. Alger marched on foot with the Phil Kearney post of Muskegon, Mich., receiving a continuous ovation. Corporal Tanner rode in a carriage between the New York delegations.

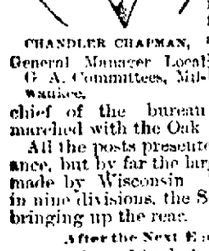
CHANDLER CHAPMAN,
General Manager Local G. A. Committees, Milwaukee.

The Kentucky delegation carried at its head the tattered flag of the First Regiment Army of the Cumberland, and there were a number of similar incidents. Capt. Meridith, chief of the bureau of engraving, marched with the Oak Park, Ill., post.

All the posts presented a fine appearance, but by far the largest showing was made by Wisconsin. The parade was in nine divisions, the Sons of Veterans bringing up the rear.

After the Next Encampment.

It is nip and tuck between Washington and Boston as to the location of the next Grand Army encampment. The Boston delegation is working hard to secure the prize; but Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Rhode Island in the east and almost the entire south and west favors the National capital. Gen. Alger and Mrs. Logan are putting in some effective work toward the same end. The council of administration received a dispatch from Gen. S. S. Burdette, of Washington, tending an official invitation for the district, and suggesting that the encampment be held in May next, which will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the great Grand Army review. District Commissioner Hine, of Washington, also wired the encampment, urging that the invitation be accepted.



GEN. ALGER.

Woman's Relief Corps.

Yesterday afternoon was devoted by the veterans to the business of a score or more of reunions of army posts and corps. Last night the opening session of the Woman's Relief Corps was held at the high school building. Mayor Brown delivered the address of welcome and Mrs. Craig, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance union, Gen. Fairchild and Gen. Hoard, delivered addresses.

CHARITY BUMK CRAIG.

War Song Concert.

Nearly 8,000 people last night attended the first of the great war song concerts which was given in the immense tent on Juneau park and the lake front. The arsenal band of St. Louis furnished the accompaniments, and there was a chorus of 500 male voices.

Banquet to the Press.

The visting and local members of the press will this evening be banqueted by the New Republic company, of which publication Congressman Warner is to become the editor. Gens. Sherman, Alger, Warner, et al, will respond to toasts. Commander-in-chief Warner was yesterday the recipient of a diamond badge from the members of his staff.

WILLIAM WARNER.

The Iron Brigade Elect Officers.

The annual meeting of the famous Iron Brigade, which was held last night was of an exciting nature. Gen. Gibbons was re-elected president by acclamation, but there was an animated fight for the first vice presidency between the supporters of Gen. Bragg and Gen. Woodward, of Lacrosse. The former had held the position for several years, up to 1888, when he was defeated, largely owing, it was claimed, to his political connections. It had been confidentially expected that at this election he would be restored to his old position, but the same influences again prevailed, and after a lively discussion Gen. Bragg's friends refused to allow his name to go to a vote and Gen. Woodward was elected with some opposition.

MRS. BURTON'S PENSION.

The Money Will Be Returned to the Government.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 28.—The case of the United States against Mrs. Burton, of Shelbyville, was called in the Federal court, but neither the defendant nor her attorney appeared.

Mrs. Burton's affidavit stating that she was not aware of the nature of the proceedings in the Shelby circuit court which resulted in the annuling of her second marriage was read, and the court then made the order against the Shelby bank perpetual. Under this the bank cannot pay the widow the $1,120 received from the pension office, and it will be returned to the government, Representative Wilson, who conducted the proceedings at Shelbyville, will be prosecuted.

An Eye Destroyed.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 28.—Wilbur Clover, a molder at the Piqua shops, met with an accident yesterday by which one eye was destroyed. Molten brass that he was pouring out of a crucible came in contact with water, and some of the metal flew in his face.

No Cause for Alarm.

Plenty of Money to Supply the Demands.

BUYING BONDS BY THE MILLIONS.

Assistant Secretary Batcheller Says That Wall Street Cannot Control the Price of United States Bonds—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Assistant Secretary Batcheller, of the treasury department, was asked about the story that Wall street speculators have bought up $20,0000,000 in bonds, forming a syndicate to force the secretary of the treasury to buy at their price, to prevent a stringency in the money market.

"All we know about it," said Mr. Batcheller, "is that we are getting all the bonds we want at our own figures. If there has been any such attempt as described it has failed. We got $2,000,000 of bonds yesterday at 128, our own price, and we had offers of $2,000,000 more at the same price. This is better than we have done before. We can get all the bonds we want at our price. There is no danger of a stringency in the money market. There is now an abundance of money. With $2,000,000 a day going into the banks I imagine no one expects a stringency."

Insane Hospital Report.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Dr. W. W. Gooding, superintendent of the government hospital for the insane at Washington, in his annual report for the past fiscal year, says the veterans of the late war continue to be received in undiminished numbers from the soldiers' home here; although each returning season Dr. Godding says, thins their ranks in the outside world and adds to the burden of the years of the survivors.

It will be some years yet, he thinks, before advancing mortality will more than counterbalance the increase in mental disease, resulting from the infirmities of age, combined with that inertia of life and loss of ambition and energy which seems to be inseparable from those conditions that compel the old soldiers to take refuge in the soldiers home; and so he says it is impossible to foretell how long the increased number of admissions from the home will continue.

Owners of the Black Diamond, Americans.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. If an unofficial rumor, which has reached the state department is confirmed, it will give an almost comical effect to the angry remonstrances of the Canadians, against the operations of the revenue cutter Rush, in Behring sea. The story is to the effect that the steam sealer Black Diamond, which was the first vessel seized this year, is owned in a large degree, if not entirely by citizens of the United States. The information came to the department incidentally, while a quiet inquiry was being made into the truth of the statement that the United States vice consul at Victoria, is interested largely in some colonial vessels illegally seized in Behring sea, which statement has so far not been officially confirmed.

The Charleston a Success.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28. A private dispatch received by an officer in the navy department from Irving M. Scott, President of the Union Iron works, San Francisco, the company that built the cruiser Charleston, says that a six hours run shows that the Charleston is a success in every respect.

No official confirmation of this dispatch has been received at the navy department from the naval officers on board the Charleston.

Good Market for Our Wheat.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The department of agriculture is in receipt of a cablegram from its European agent in London, stating that the international grain market, in session at Vienna, estimates the wheat crop of Europe lower than was expected. The crop in Russia and Hungary is found especially bad.

A Generous King.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The department of state has been informed of the recent very generous gift of his majesty, the King of Siam, for the use of the American Presbyterian mission, of one of the royal palaces, together with extensive grounds and buildings.

Two Indiana Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The president has appointed Joseph H. Hirst postmaster at Angola, Ind., and John R. Bonnel, postmaster at Crawfordsville, Ind.

May Remove Grant's Remains.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—It is said that since New York has failed to keep her promise in building a monument to the memory of Gen. Grant, the Grand Army, in their encampment, will take some action in regard to transferring his remains to Arlington. The Washington post makes a strong plea for the change.

Justice Field's Case Dismissed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The United States circuit court has been officially informed that the charge of murder against Justice Field had been dismissed by the Stockton court. Judge Sawyer, accordingly dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Justice Field.

Another Wool Failure.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—John S. Mackintosh, wool puller of Milton, assigned. His liabilities are estimated at $100,000. The assignment is caused by the embarrassments of Brown, Steese & Clark and George W. Hollis.

TERRIFIC BOILER EXPLOSION.

Five Men Killed, Two Fatally and a Dozen Others Injured.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 28.—A special from Scranton, Pa., to The Times, says: The rolling mill and nail factory at Towanda, Bradford county, operated by Bostley, Godcharles & Company, was partially wrecked yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by the explosion of a boiler, the disaster resulting in instant death of five men and fatally injury of two others, and slight injury of a dozen other workmen.

The dead are: Sanford B. Smith, puddler, married; Richard Ackerly, roller, married; Guy Herman, helper, married; Isaac Bandford, helper, single.

The fatally injured are: Charles Zebich, terribly burned by molten metal; James Rider, both legs broken and internal injuries.

The force of the explosion was terrific, lifting the entire roof off the southern portion of the mill, tearing away the rafters and girders and leaving the whole mass crushing into the mill and upon the terrified force of workmen, who were scattering in every direction, and crouching behind all kinds of obstacles to escape the fury of the hissing steam, which was filling the structure from the nest of boilers that were displaced and broken in their steam connections by the exploding boiler, pieces of which were hurled through the mill. The larger portion of the bursted boiler was carried through the side of the mill, landing away in a mass of scrap iron fully 150 feet.

The explosions awful sound was heard all through the town, and great crowds of the inhabitants rushed to the mill to learn its effect. Workmen were soon marshalled by Richard A. Bostley and Simon Rendall, members of the firm, and they speedily removed the debris and released the men who were buried in it, and also recovering the bodies of the killed, some of whom were badly mangled and scalded.

DISASTROUS BLAZE

At the Columbus Penitentiary—Property Valued at $100,000 Destroyed.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 28.—About 8 o'clock last night a fire broke out inside the penitentiary walls, which destroyed about $100,000 of property in less than two hours. The chair shop, the lamp shop, and the old cooper shop, were totally destroyed, entailing a loss to the state on the buildings of between $20,000, and $25,000. The fire is supposed to have originated in the boiler-room of the chair shop, and was under considerable headway before discovered.

The principal losers are the Columbus Chair company, $15,000, with $8,000 insurance; J. W. Dann Manufacturing company, $4,000, with $2,000 insurance; Columbus belt works, E. R. Lanman, between $40,000 and $50,000, with $25,000 insurance, and Corner Brush Manufacturing company about $10,000, with insurance. The fire department were hampered by the lack of water pressure inside the penitentiary inclosure.

During the fire a cornice fell off one of the burning buildings and injured two firemen and one prisoner. The firemen were Thomas F. Kerin and George Suydam, who received slight cuts. The prisoner, Daniel Sheridan, was sent up from Hamilton county on a five years' sentence for burglary. He received a scalp wound, and was burned on the shoulders. None of the men are dangerously injured.

Arrested for Robbing the Mails.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 28.—Monday a United States detective arrested Joseph Breze, son of a prominent local hotel manager, on the charge of taking letters from the Madison postoffice. Much money, railway tickets, drafts etc. have been missed, and some suspicious fragments were found in Breze's house. He has been held for trial in $1,000 bonds. He was a letter carrier here for several years, and thus secured free access to the working part of the postoffice.

Growing Very Great.

The Strike in London Rapidly Increasing.

THOUSANDS ADDED EVERY DAY.

No Prospect for an Immediate Settlement of the Trouble—Ship Owners Refuse to Compromise, Though Urged to From Nearly Every Source—Other Foreign Information.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Thousands of coal porters have joined the strikers and the situation instead of improving is growing worse hourly. Meetings of strikers and employers continue, but thus far they have been barren of results. The directors of the dock company have declined an offer to supply the places of the strikers with 3,000 Belgians at four pence half penny per hour presumably because they fear an outbreak as the result of its acceptance.

Vessel Owners Ask Protection.

The vessel owners held a meeting yesterday and appointed a committee to wait on Mr. Matthews, the home secretary, to inquire if the government was prepared to give them protection in case they undertook to bring men here from other points to load and unload the ships now at this port. Mr. Matthews assured the members of the committee that they should receive ample protection, but when asked to advise them declined to express any opinion as to the wisdom of the course they proposed. He pointed out to them, however, the grave consequences which were almost certain to result from an attempt at this time to fill the places of the strickers with foreigners and suggested that they do nothing rashly.

The committee reported at a joint meeting of the ship owners and the dock companies. The conference was strictly private and reporters were excluded. It was learned, however, that a decision was reached not to make the attempt to handle freight with the new men that have been engaged.

Changed Their Minds.

A large steamer is on the way to London now from Hamburg, and another from Antwerp with men who have been hired at those points to take the places of the striking dock laborers, but instructions will be sent to land these men at neighboring ports and on no account to bring them to London.

A Plan Proposed.

A plan was prepared at the meeting and very favorably received, to gradually send the vessels now lying here to the nearest ports to be loaded and unloaded and ship their cargoes to and from London by rail. Nearly 8,000 laborers who have been hired at foreign ports, and who are now on the way here are to be sent to those places to assist in loading and discharging vessels. In this way they hope to tide over the present difficulties and to starve the strikers into submission, without furnishing them an excuse for open violence by bringing men here to take their places.

No definite action was taken yesterday, but it is quite likely that this plan will be adopted, and then fifty of the steamers now lying helpless here will be dispatched at once to Dover, Portsmouth, Southampton, Hull and even as far as New Castle, where their cargoes will be unloaded and shipped to London by rail.

The Strikers Not Frightened.

The leaders of the striking laborers laugh at this attempt at a flank movement. They say the enormous cost of such a proceeding would alone condemn it to failure, but apart from this, if the attempt is seriously made, they could effectually checkmate the ship owners by ordering out the freight handlers at the London termini of the railroads, who, they say, are even now anxious to strike.

Food for the Strikers.

The public subscriptions in aid of the strikers now amount to £3,000, and this sum will be used chiefly for the purchase and distribution of food tickets. Over 100,000 men in different occupations are now on a strike, and all look for orders to Burns, the Socialist agitator, whose excellent management of the strike thus far elicits surprise and admiration from friend and foe alike.

The Chamber of Commerce Takes Part.

The London chamber of commerce held a special meeting yesterday, called for the purpose of taking action with reference to the disastrous condition of things brought about by the existing strikes. The meeting was very largely attended, representative men from all branches of trade and industry being present, speeches were made roundly denouncing the dock companies for their action, and resolutions were passed urging them to agree to arbitration. A committee of prominent business men were appointed to wait on officials of the company to present the resolutions, and they were instructed to use their best efforts to prevail upon the dock companies to end the strike.

Justice of the Strikers' Demands.

Seven members of the house commons called upon the dock managers and labored with them for nearly two hours in an effort to induce them to yield. They urged the justice of the demands made by the laborers, and asked them to concede the insignificant advance of wages sought. They pointed out that the situation was hourly growing worse, and that nothing short of absolute ruin for vast interests of London and England was threatened as a result of ill-considered obstinacy at this critical juncture on their part.

The managers were all politeness, but held out no encouragement, and the most compromising statement that could be extorted from them was that they "would consider it."

Burns, the leader of the strike, addressed a meeting of strickers last night declaring the strike was the beginning of a new era for workingmen.

They Refuse to Arbitrate.

Delegates from the leading business houses in twelve important trades called upon the officials of the London Dock company yesterday, and urged that the company consent to submit its differences with the strikers to arbitration. The officials received the delegation, but declined to accede to their proposals.

A Small Riot in Paris.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—A crowded meeting of Boulangists was held here yesterday evening to protest against the conviction and sentence of their chief. Those present were mostly workmen. The police were thickly distributed in and about the hall, and a large force of military were held in readiness outside while the meeting was in progress. MM. Laisant and Lagnerre spoke severely, condemning the action of the senate in convicting Boulanger. The question being put as to whether Boulanger should receive their further support, those present unanimously declared that they would continue to uphold the brave general and his policy. A disorderly mob occupied the street in front of the hall where the meeting was held, and soon began to stone the police. This was kept up until the mounted guard charged into the mob and arrested many of the most disorderly of the number.

Very Destructive Earthquake.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 28.—The village of Khenzorik on the frontier, was visited by a terrible earthquake yesterday, which destroyed the larger part of the town. Great fissures opened in the earth, and in many cases the villagers were swallowed up by the dozen. So far 129 people are known to have been buried alive in this way.

Fearful Ravages of Cholera.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The cholera, which has been making fearful havoc in Bagdad, has spread to other points in Mesopotamia, notwithstanding the precautions which were taken to cut off all communication with that city, and is now ravaging the entire province.

OHIO DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Everything Ready to Nominate a State Ticket at Dayton.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 27.—An unusually large crowd is here in attendance on the Democratic state convention, which will hold its opening session at the rink today. Last night the district delegations held meetings, at which each selected a vice president, assistant secretary and a member of each of the various convention committees. The committees subsequently met and prepared their reports for submission when the convention meets.

Last night ex-Congressman James E. Campbell, of Hamilton; ex-Congressman Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe, and Hon. Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland, the rival aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination, made spirited addresses from the balcony of the Phillip's house. Campbell is generally understood to be the leader in the race, with Neal a close second and Kline in the rear. There is not much interest in the other places on the ticket.

Campbell men are offering $100 to $75 that their candidate will be nominated on first ballot.

It now looks as though the ticket would: Campbell, governor; Kline, lieutenant governor; Boden, treasurer; Follett or Critchfield, supreme judge; Lewis, attorney general; Howard, board public works; Miller, school commissioner.

The Democratic clubs of the state paraded the streets yesterday afternoon, with about 2,000 men in line.

Kline's Chances.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 28.—A dispatch to The Press from Dayton says that the fight between Campbell and Neal for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination has resolved itself into the old Pendleton-McLean feud, and that Kline, of Cuyahoga, will stand an excellent chance of carrying off the coveted plum. It is now predicted that a strong tariff reform plank will be introduced into the platform.

Jack Dempsey Knocked Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Great interest was excited by last night's fight between Jack Dempsey, the "Nonpareil," and George Le Blanche, the "Marine," at the California Athletic club. About 2,000 people were fortunate enough to gain entrance to the gymnasium, while a great number thronged the street outside. Herman Cook, of this city, acted as referee. Dempsey's seconds were Denny Costigan and Dave Campbell. Le Blanche's seconds were John Donaldson and Paddy Gorman. Betting was $100 to $35 in Dempsey's favor. Thirty-two rounds were fought, and resulted in Dempsey getting knocked out.

Decapitated on the Public Square.

HALIFAX, Aug. 28. Capt. Angrove, of the steamer St. Pierre, who returned yesterday from St. Pierre, witnessed the execution of Nael, who murdered a man named Coupard, some months ago. The execution took place at daylight on Saturday morning in the public square, and was witnessed by 2,000 people. When all was arranged the knife dropped, completely severing the head, which dropped into a basket below.

Captured From Robbers Escape.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 28. Information received here from Thompson Springs, Utah, says that the Rio Grande train robbers were captured by a posse of whites and Indians on Monday afternoon, near the Navajo reservation, through strategy. The prisoners managed to escape by jumping from the wagons which were conveying them to Salt Lake. The pursuit has not been abandoned.

THE WORLD'S WHEAT CROP.

Is Twelve Million Bushels Less Than Last Year.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The American wheat crop for the current year will be about 500,000,000 bushels, or 80,000,000 more than last year. Under ordinary circumstances this would mean cheaper flour at home and a large surplus to carry over to next year. But there are short wheat crops elsewhere.

This shortage is as follows: Russia 72,000,000 bushels; Hungary, 36,000,000; Roumania, 8,000,000; Germany, 8,000,000; India, 18,000,000, and South America and Australia, 24,000,000; total, 160,000,000. The increases are: United States, 83,000,000; Canada, 8,000,000; England and France, 82,000,000; Italy, Spain, Belgium, Holland and Algeria, 32,000,000; total, 154,000,000.

This shows the world's wheat crop to be about 12,000,000 bushels less than last year, and as the reserves are lower than at that time it seems quite probable that the bulk of our surplus crop will be needed for exports.

Excursionists' Close Call.

ALTON, Ill., Aug. 28.—Alton sent 1,500 excursionists to Springfield Sunday to attend the corner stone laying of a Catholic church. As one of the extra trains were returning early yesterday morning, on the bluff line, the engine ran into a drove of horses and was derailed on a high embankment. Fortunately the train did not follow it, but the excursionists had a narrow escape.

Earthquake Felt in California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 28.—A severe shock of earthquake occurred here at 6:13 yesterday evening. It began with a slight tremor, which lasted a few seconds, then the vibrations were stronger and ended with two heavy shakes. The shock was the most severe experienced here in many years and lasted ten seconds.

PRICES CURRENT.

NEW YORK—Money at 5@5½ per cent.

Currency sixes, 118 bid; four coupons, 128; four-and-halfs, 106¾ bid.

The stock market this morning opened quite active and strong. The first prices were from ⅛ to ¾ per cent. higher than last evening's. After the first few minutes the activity subsided, but the tone continued strong and prices made further advances in some cases during the first hour. Toward noon the market was excessively dull and some of the leaders lost part of the early advance. At this writing the market is dull and heavy.

CAMPBELL NOMINATED

A dispatch from Dayton, at the hour of going to press, states that the Democratic State convention has nominated Hon. James E. Campell for governor on the first ballot. Mr. Campbell's nomination was looked for as a sure result, though it was hardly expected with so little fight. He is the Democracy's strongest man.

ANOTHER failure of crops is reported in southwest Kansas on account of continued dry wether. The two staple crops, corn and wheat, are said to be almost a total loss, and much want and suffering are expected to ensue in consequence. It is proposed now to provide against such losses in the future by introducing an extensive system of irrigation. One thing appears quite certain, that the lack of rain must be provided for in some way or the agriculturists of that section must turn their attention to crops which are not so easily affected by draught as corn and wheat. The successive failures of many years would seem to have demonstrated the folly of attempting to raise such crops under unfavorable conditions. Long continued periods of dry weather are evidently a regular climatic condition of some parts of Kansas.

SINCE the trees have been trimmed up it can be very truthfully said of Marion that it is the best lighted little city in Ohio, or any where else for that matter. The electric light service is excellent and will be abundant when the street circuits are fully completed. Marion is behind the times in only few things, and worst of all is her street improvement. The only trouble with that is that we spend our money in an old fashioned way.

THE Columbus Press thinks "now that the veterans assembled at Milwaukee have started a movement to remove the remains of General Grant from New York City, where they were placed against the wishes of three-fourths of the nation, that city will have to desist from its efforts to secure the World's Fair and explain how it is that the promised monument to the old hero has never been built.

WITH fervent regard for their new State the signers of the constitution of Washington wrote their names on the engrossed document with quills from the bird of freedom itself. How much better it is to have a constitution signed with pens made from the tail feathers of an eagle rather than from a mineral iguminiously dug from the bowels of the earth.

TWENTY-NINE years ago Monday an event occurred which has revolutionized America. The first oil was struck near Titusville. It would take a volume to tell what petroleum has done for this country since that "strike."

IF it incidentally observed that the undertakers are again regaining their composure and smiling in cases of necessity. They have found ground for burying their fears of elixir ruining their business.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effects and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Household Goods for Sale.

I have a number of household goods which I will dispose of at private sale, during this week, very cheap for cash. Goods as good as new—purchased last spring. Inquire of J. F. Shertzer, on Cherry street, opposite Fred Isslelb's residence. 1245-2

Pimples on the Face

Denote an impure state of the blood and are looked upon by many with suspicion. Acker's Blood Elixir will remove all impurities and leave the complexion smooth and clear. There is nothing that will so thoroughly build up the constitution, purify and strengthen the whole system. Sold and guaranteed by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Agosta.

Mrs. W. F. Dutton, who recently had an arm broken, is getting along nicely.

W. T. Hill is commencing among the sick this week.

Mrs. Martha Beckley was attacked Sunday with malaria and by nurse one for some hours. At present she is doing quite well.

We notice the doctor's attendance at D. W. Beckley's house and learn that Mrs. B. is ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Webb Buell and daughter, of Kansas, are visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

H. E. Hill is engaged in teaching a class in penmanship, which was organized for him. He makes a very good instructor.

Some men are engaged in putting up a telephone line along the railroad, between Marion and Lafton. Guess we are to have an office.

The factory will commence work in a few weeks, and then our village will revive.

D. H. Clifton was in town today on business.

Married, by Rev. John Parlette, at the parsonage in Lafton, Mr. Will Obara and Miss Hettie Siffritt, both of this place. May peace, happiness and joy attend them through life.

Miss Clara Bussler is in Marion this week, visiting with her sister, Mrs. Mida Jones.

D. L. Cockley has finished cleaning the lands of the Carpenter tract, and we understand that the land is now for sale, as all the timber has been taken from it that is suitable for use at the factory.

A transfer of the hotel was made last week, Mr. Hathaway again taking charge. Rev. Powers has located in Paulding county, and his son, Jay, will leave Wednesday to work on the mill he moved from this place there.

A game of ball was played here Saturday between the Prospect Buckeyes and Agosta Stoggers. This time our boys tasted of defeat, the score standing 14 to 29. So much for not being in practice, boys. Hill and Byrne formed the home club's battery, and Sells and Wilke the Prospect. Our boys go to Prospect to play a return game Tuesday.

Quite a number attended the Bowling Green picnic from here, and they report a good time. Our fellow townsman, Ed Hill, entered the contest for speaking, and it is whispered by some that he carried off the honors.

The Royal Peanut association held its picnic in a grove near Green Camp on Wednesday last. A number went from this vicinity and a good time is reported.

D. W. Beckley is having built a new side-bar built for himself on west Main street, at a probable cost of $800.

Eddie Taft is visiting at Henry Truesdale's this week.

A party given at the residence of Mr. Powers on Monday evening was attended by quite a number of our young folks.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer, of Lafton, makes from two to three visits to our village each day.

Miss Stella Cline returned from a week's visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie, on Saturday evening.

The possibility is that we will lose James Beckley as a resident of our village. James wants to make a farmer of himself.

In excavating D. W. Beckley's cellar the attention of the workmen was drawn by Samuel Wright to a piece of supposed iron ore taken out by him. They carelessly threw it aside and in the course of two or three hours looked for it again, and to their surprise they found it had turned into an old tin can.

Some of our boys visited J. Beckley's grape arbor Tuesday evening and took the reform it contained, the best and a good portion of the grapes. The next visit they make they will be tendered a reception.

Some of the young folks who attend the evening meetings would pay a tribute of respect to the church and others who attend by not whispering so much. They are either incapable of what they are doing or else they are limited intellectually some have remarked both. We hope you will take this as a warning and thus avoid a public exposure.

Our picnic is Thursday, and we expect to have a good time. Preparations are being made to accommodate some six or seven schools.

The telephone office will be in J. Beckley's store room, the most pleasant and convenient place in town.

The postoffice will be moved in the near future into the business room of E. D. Horton & Son. So much we are favored by having a Republican administration.

Will Thomas, of Columbus, was here Tuesday. Will is all business, and a hustler, too.

Some nice squirrels were brought to the village by our hunter, Hobby, on Tuesday forenoon. He surrendered them to the sick of our village.

Mrs. Charles Smith is quite poorly at present. Malaria is the trouble.

Our Republicans will all attend the grandest rally of the season, to be held at Scott Town on September 10th. Governor Foraker, General Gibson and Judge West are the speakers engaged.

BELLEFONT, Pa., Aug. 28. Late yesterday Lloyd Hessler, aged 16 years, was instantly killed by a heavy steam boiler which he was assisting to load into a railroad car. The hoisting rope broke in two, allowing the boiler to roll back upon him, crushing his head in a horrible manner.

Caution to Mothers.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric; it creates an artificial craving for stimulants which ruins the mind of the child. Acker's Baby Soothing Syrup is especially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains. It is the real secret of all Opium or Morphine. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co.

Cincinnati, Oct. 15th, 1888.

Wolff & Randolph, Philada —Gentlemen:—I used Acme Blacking about a year ago but became dissatisfied and quit. Two months ago I met a friend in Chicago who was strikingly handsome, and asked him "What kind of blacking are you using?" "Wolff's Acme Blacking," he replied. "Had you ever any trouble with it on account of its coming on the shoes?" "Not a particle! When I bought the first bottle three years ago, I carefully read the directions and followed them." "Exceptional!" I cried. "I have been cursed with that!" "I thought a bottle right then and there, to the wrapper of the neck of bottle, I have since done so and admire it. BOXSEE'S PURE CLAM JUICE!
A Natural Medicine, an Agreeable, Not a Nauseous Dose.

"Throw physic to the dogs."
—Shakespeare or Bacon?

INVIGORATING and appetizing if taken cold before eating in the morning. It tones up the system, settles a disordered stomach. A gentle, but sure cathartic. If a matitudinal cocktail must be indulged in, it will counteract its bad effects as to stomach and brain. An absolute and sure preventitive of sea sickness. Its components are closely allied to the gastric juices of the stomach.

An Antidote to Intoxicants.

IF taken regularly, fresh and cold, three times a day, before each meal, it will put the stomach in such a shape that the necessity for stimulants will not be felt, and excessive desire can be toned down to simple moderation. I shall keep Clam Juice constantly on hand to be served FREE, hot or cold, to my customers. Knowing positively from experience that it will do all that is claimed for it above, I will try in every way to promote its use, as it is not my wish to encourage excessive drinking, and if I can discourage it by giving away freely the only known antidote I will only be too glad to do so.

Have also for sale Buckingham whisky, old Maryland rye—fully matured, seven years old, the best in the country.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

WHAT A GREENHORN SEES IN THE BIG METROPOLIS.

He Doesn't Have Anything to Say About Opium Joints, or the Astors, or the Jeromes, or Sea Bathing, but He Looks Up Some Mighty Interesting Things.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—I will not chose as a text, "What a greenhorn sees in New York," though that is practically what I am going to write about.

You have read what the polished scribblers have had to say about the beauties of metropolitan existence, and they tell you all about the opium joints, the sea bathing and reminiscences of Astors and Jeromes and all the points of the town. I don't know any of these people, and never expect to, and what is more I don't believe the others do either, and I have a sneaking idea that nine out of ten of New York letters are made up out of the daily papers, with a generous sprinkling of personal pronouns to keep up interest.

Neither do I know anything about Chinamen or opium joints, so I will leave that to the people who do; I will, just for the sake of airing a personal opinion, declare that a Chinaman don't know how to wash a shirt, and that I believe has been heretofore the only valid permit upon which he based existence.

Sea bathing is probably all right for those who like it, but to a stranger who has no suit and no shape to show, a cold shower bath, with a drink of plain soda to remind him of the pleasures of gulping down beastly salt water, answers every purpose.

If you want to enjoy Central park you can do it equally well in Kansas City by buying last week's Harper's Weekly, for the swan boats look much better in the paper than they do on the water; and besides it is cooler to swing in your hammock and read than to give up money to paddle around the pond and half drown in a sea of your own perspiration.

New York's chief charm to the stranger consists, at least to me, in coming face to face with the things he used to read about in his green covered, embossed primer when he went to school. It is the advantage of notoriety, and it is a great advantage to all concerned, for the people who run the sights in the metropolis do it on very scientific principles.

New Yorkers I imagine to be intensely practical people. Your landlady takes you to a dingy rear room on the fourth floor, and tells you that the rent with board for two is $25 a week. She tells you that the room is vastly superior to the front room on the bath room floor, and she tells you why. In the first place you do not get the noise or dust of the street, and then—think of it—you get the sun in winter, and unless you harden your heart you are very likely to agree with her.

But my idea in this letter is to contrast metropolitan with provincial life, the life of the large cities of New York state, for instance. In the first place, there is no room in New York, and the houses have to go up into the air, pertorce. There are no door yards to speak of, much less lawns, such as one sees in Buffalo, for example, and the rear yard, usually about twenty feet square, is the lurking place in summer of such members of the family as would keep cool.

As I write, my fair neighbor, who lives on the street above, sits under her arbor in wrapper and slippers and nods over a novel. She looks as cool as a cucumber, and no doubt she is. She has several yards of green grass to cool the breezes for her, and the mocking bird over her head that yells "Marguerite" at her from morning until night supplies the place of the birds which the hawkish little sparrow drove away.

Moreover, there is a tree in the yard of some unknown species; it is a sad little tree and looks as though it were tired of playing clothes post for four families.

Of course my neighbor could go to the park and sit on a bench with a fagged out mother and her two babies, but she is thinking about next week, when she will sail around at Bar Harbor in her new togs, the envy of both sexes.

Bar Harbor seems to be all the go this year, and yet none thanks of paying the president or the secretary of state a nickel for making the locality known to the world.

Strangely enough New Yorkers, who are very solid on arithmetic, know next to nothing of geography. The outlying districts as far west as Chicago are known as "Up Country," and one man was surprised when I told him Lake George was nearer Albany than Buffalo. He also had an idea that the locality of the recent floods, Johnstown, N. Y., was dangerously near Niagara Falls.

The country merchant brings his hopeful along to read the signs, and the boy seems to find it a very interesting study. One sign I saw the other day that interested me. On a street facing East river a board tacked up bore the inscription: "Sand worms for sale here." Having always been interested in angling, though I never had more than the usual fisherman's luck, I entered and asked about the price of worms. A gill cupful cost a nickel. The worms are kept in wet sand; come to think of it, it wouldn't be just the caper to go digging worms around Madison square, though if I hadn't the nickel I should stand in with the corporation, and follow the infernal trench diggers who are forever tearing up the streets to lay water and gas pipes and electric wire conduits.

Another thing that struck me as queer was the method of cleaning the streets. The horse brooms can work at night to advantage, but in business hours the scavenger plies under the horse's heels with a canvas grip sack and a short handled brush. He dodges in and out on Broadway, and seems to lead a charmed existence.

Many of the pleasures of provincial life seem to me to be lacking in New York. The miles of asphalt streets of which many an interior city boasts, and which afford safe pleasure to the male and female bicycle riders, are lacking. To be sure one can ride in Central park or on the boulevards about Washington heights, but from what I have seen I judge that there is little pleasure in it.

Last Sunday I saw two wheels at the park. One was being ridden down the mall at a breakneck pace by a young man. The other was in the hands of a policeman, while its owner was making an equally lively trip in the bottom of a park department ambulance.

Speaking of policemen reminds me of a sight I saw the other night on Park row. I had noticed a policeman in the bar room of an all night hotel. He had held up the bar rail for a long time, and seemed to be about as drank as possible. As he went out he caught sight of two or three young men standing near the curb, engaged in a discussion. The refusal of his order to move on seemed to arouse him from comparative lethargy to drunken fury. The way he clubbed them was awful. One—and the smallest of the three—covered with blood, screamed for mercy so loudly that a crowd was collected, and the policeman, seeing to realize what he had done, fled down the street.

This is the general reputation of the forces among the people who are taxed to pay the clubbers $1,200 a year apiece. Even inspectors, who are regarded as heroes by the provincial superintendent, are openly charged with blackmail and with standing in with the worst thieves of the town; even of making their most lauded captures by use of stool pigeons.

The poor Buffalo or Rochester policeman, whose head goes off for sleeping on his beat or for being caught coming out the back door of a friendly brewery, would be horrified to find the "finest" standing up to the bars, or asleep in a rear room with hat and shoes off, confident that the barkeeper will awaken him in time to meet the roundsman.

On the other hand, there are policemen at Coney Island that are gentlemen personified. I sat on a fence at West Brighton the other night admiring the fireworks. A policeman with red hair and kindly blue eyes approached. "Won't you please get off that fence?" said he. "I am supposed to keep people off it, but I don't want to disturb any one more than is necessary in order to obey the rules."

We took an observation of the pyrotechnics through a glass darkly, and for a long time we both sat on the fence and watched the ebb of the tide and listened to the sad sea waves. It is better to stand in with a policeman than otherwise, for he combines within himself the majesty of the law and of his political boss, and if you prefer charges against him for clubbing you, he knows that there are thousands at his beck to swear your breath away and put you in jail for perjury. If he imagines you would squeal, he would rather kill you outright than let you appear against him.

"But does it not cost more to live in New York than in a provincial city?" asks the moralist. Cert, my friend, it does; that is providing you live. If you are willing to simply exist, you can do it very cheaply. I know a hotel on Fourth avenue where you can get a small room, with everything sweet and clean, for $3 a week. Then you can get your meals at your own price at a restaurant. You can have corned beef and beans for ten cents, coffee for five and butter cakes ("sinkers" they call them here) at the same price, so that with pie for dessert you round up a single quarter of a dollar. If you go on for a week at this extravagant rate, you are out but $7.45, all told. As your income waxes and wanes you can, of course, increase or diminish the dose of luxuries. If you are at peace with your pocketbook you can have excellent table board for $5 a week (this is without lunch, only two meals a day), with a nice room for $3 more.

And it is the same way with housekeeping. There are very expensive houses and there are those which are comparatively cheap. I looked at one in Brooklyn the other day the price of which, with about ten rooms, was but $20 a week, the lowest price of a cottage in Buffalo. There are flats in good neighborhoods to be had at $18, $20 and $21 a month. These are double flats, which have a hallway through the middle, with apartments on either side. If you want a single flat of seven or eight rooms and must live in a retired and highly respectable neighborhood, it will cost you from $27 to $32, and you can get all the luxuries by going up into the fifties and sixties.

I believe—I don't know it, of course, having just come—that the cheapness of the other necessities of life about equalize the rent score. If you will buy your beefsteak of the corner butcher, who gets his cuts done up in tinfoil and delivered on ice at retail prices, you must pay 25 cents a pound. But if you will take the trouble and an elevated train you can go to the nearest public market and buy meat as cheaply as he can and as cheaply as in the provincial cities.

Young men full of ambition dream of coming to New York, and think they will be able to take advantage of its possibilities. Such do not need advice. They are not looking for it, and who but a fool would advise them?

If they come they stand a better chance to succeed than the New Yorker by birthright, simply because they are apt to work harder for success. Don't come expecting to have a brass band reception at the train, for New York is a very cold town, and if you haven't the price of a square meal the man you expect to get it from is sure to be out of town. If you must come, have at least the price of a return ticket and two weeks' board, and then, if the gods are with you, you will get there, but if they are not, why, you can go home again and take time to decide what is the trouble with you.

CHARLES H. THOMAS.

The King and Queen of Greece.

ATHENS, Aug. 12.—Never does ancient history seem so real as when standing on Mars hill in Athens, where St. Paul stood and told the men of Athens that they were too superstitious, and never does modern history make itself so obtrusively felt as when the traveler looks at the ridiculous barrack like home built by King Otho, the Bavarian, who was sent by the powers that were to reign over the Greeks.

Within a half a mile from each other stand the ruined Acropolis, with its marvels of beauty and enduring strength, and the ridiculous ginger bread structure built to shelter the present royalty. The one was a fitting abode for the gods, the other is unworthy the nation, and doubly unworthy the noble rulers of that classic country.

The city of Athens, as every one knows, stands some six miles from Piræus, and in spite of the beautiful gardens and trees, gleams painfully white in the sun; but there is a charm and interest in this lovely place that I have found nowhere else in my travels. The ruins of great temples cumber the ground with colossal fragments, each one a masterpiece, and from every part of the city the hill is visible, with its fadeless crown of incomparable sculpture. The scarred and worn temple of Theseus on Mars hill, but a stone's throw from the Acropolis, is full to overflowing with pieces of matchless marble, which have been wrought by hands dust a thousand years. The theme tempts a long description, but I set out to tell a little something about the king and queen who have done so much to restore that ancient kingdom to prosperity.

When King George was called to the throne the country was well nigh bankrupt, her industries had decayed and agriculture even was partially abandoned, but with the best interests of the country at heart he has labored. He is really an able man, though rather a silent one, and he said little but immediately set about reforms, and it was not long before his power was felt in the improved condition of industry and commerce, and these backed by a feeling of security.

King George has decided artistic taste, and though the horribly ugly structure called palace where he has to live is a source of constant dislike, he would never hear of building a new one or even remodeling this, and here lives King George and Olga, his beautiful queen. They receive quite informally in comparison with the rulers of several other far less important kingdoms, though, of course, the good offices of persons of high position are necessary to obtain an interview.

They live in a homelike manner, and the king sat in an easy chair made of rattan, while the queen had an American rocking chair in which she usually sits sewing or reading, or rocking and making pretty lace work, pieces of which she gave to ladies of our party as souvenirs. She speaks English fairly well, having studied it from the teachers of the American school. M. F. D.

Very Complimentary.

Old man Estee, the California bungler, has made another amusing and characteristic bungle. When Mme. Modjeska took her formal leave of San Francisco last month Estee made a speech, and, desiring to be particularly felicitous, he assured madame that what was said of Naples is, "See Naples and die," and every body knows what that means. But "See Modjeska and die" may mean one thing or may mean another.—Chicago News.

Rather a Handicap.

Little Pet—Oh, ain't that nice! Come on, grandpa, let's try it.—Life.

Sized Up by a Waiter.

Everybody is agreed that feeling the servants about a hotel is a pernicious practice and one that every free born American should seek to stamp out, but nevertheless the fact stares you in the face that the habit is growing and spreading and becoming more firmly tastened upon guests. You may combat the practice all you will, but there are two reasons why it will be continued. The first is because landlords hire waiters at starvation wages and encourage them to expect blackmail from guests, and the next is because you realize that you suffer a loss of standing at the hands of a waiter if you don't hand over. I had made up my mind this year not to part with one blessed cent to Sambo, and I held to that resolution just one week. Then he was changed off to another table, and next day I accidentally overheard him giving the new waiter some pointers.

"Dat pusson at de foot of de table pays fifty cents a week, an' he ar' a judge, I reckon," he explained. "De fust one on his left ar' good fur six shillins, an' he's a kurnel. De one on de right is a fifty center, an' he's a purfessor. De next two ar' two bit pussons, an' only captains."

"But de one at de head, Julius?"

"He hain't gin me a red cent, an' it's easy to see he's no quality. Why, Moses, I don't believe he was ebon ever 'leckted to Congress or had $1,000,000 to his name!"—Detroit Free Press.

His Secret.

She—There is a far away look in your eye to-night, George. You are not yourself. You seem to be in anguish of soul. There is something dark and melancholy weighing upon your spirits. What is it, George? You promised to confide all your care, all your troubles to me when we became engaged, to hide nothing from me; but now I perceive you have a secret. Tell me what it is, George. Fear not to place your confidence in me. Are we not engaged? Am I not to be your wife? Have you not sworn to lead me to the altar as soon as you get a raise of salary? Oh! then by the memory of those vows made under the silent stars, by the hopes of the future, I conjure you tell me, tell me what it is distracts your soul.

He—Well, Mary——

She—Hesitate not, George. Fear not to confide in me. My love will stand every test.

He—Well, er—Mary, I'm afraid I'm going to have a boil come on the back of my neck.—Boston Courier.

The Art of Eating Watermelon.

Eating watermelon is an art, learned only by experience. As a dessert it is not a success. It falls too heavily on a dinner. Like a pretty girl, it is best by itself; it loses half its charm by being mixed in a crowd. The melon should be cold. It should be ripe. Its flesh should blush like a graduate. Its heart should glow like a sun kissed cloud at close of day, and its temperature should be as chilly as the smile of a Boston belle. When you get such a treasure do not bother with other food. Open it, gaze on it, bury your face in its sweetness, and let your appreciation run riot.—Baltimore American.

A Severe Shock.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the manager before the curtain, "it is my unpleasant duty to inform you that Mr Ham, the eminent tragedian, owing to illness, will not be able to appear to night. His system has had a very severe shock, and he is suffering from nervous prostration."

"What's de matter?" shouted a gal from the gallery; "did ye pay him in advance?"—Texas Siftings.

Making Rapid Progress.

Tucker—I saw your son in the country today, Parker. He had his camera with him, I believe.

Parker—Yes, he went out to take some views, I suppose. Was he making good progress?

"You bet he was; and dust, too. Somebody's red bull was after him."—Time.

A Good Reason.

Teacher—Tommy Stimson, how is it that your clothes are all torn and dirty? (No answer.) Look at Bobbie Smitem, how tidy he looks. Stand up, Bobbie, and tell the school why your clothes are not dirty, like Tommy Stimson's.

Bobbie—'Cause I licked him.—New York Sun.

So Sodden.

They were climbing up the mountain side, and, coming to a steep place, he deemed it proper to assist her, and, turning, said:

"Please give me your hand."

"Oh!" she replied with a blush, "this is so sudden. You must ask papa."—Boston Courier.

Breaking the Monotony.

LONG LIFE

There is nothing in the world more generally desired than long life, yet the majority of people put off caring for their health—not because they are really careless, but because we live our lives at such a pace we have not time to give the subject sufficient thought until we receive a reminder in the shape of a severe illness.

Then, too, we are constantly bewildered by the various schools of medicine, and the physicians who represent them, and often blunder in our choice of a doctor.

If people only knew that the very best health-keeper, life-preserver, and disease-preventer that has yet been discovered, is simmered down into a concentrated and very palatable form in the shape of New Style Pleasant Taste Vinegar Bitters, they would not hesitate a moment to try it.

But they do not know. How can they know, when so many not only worthless, but positively injurious drugs are constantly flooding the market under various names guises, that the New Style Vinegar Bitters is as bad as any of them?

They do not know, of course, unless they have the courage to try the New Style. It straightens out a tangled-up system in a very short while, and those who buy it once buy it always.

Why don't you try it, reader? It is sent out by a responsible house, and is exactly as represented. It costs but a dollar for a very large bottle. Try it once and you will never be so glad of anything in your life. Your druggist may not have it, but he will order it for you. Be sure it says New Style Pleasant Taste on carton and bottle before you take it. Try it, and you will feel happier than if you had found a gold mine, for it really is a mine of health.

Free from alcohol and opium; composed of expensive herbs and roots, with a fine, delicate flavoring.

—THE BESSEMER SUIT—

FOR CHILDREN,

As indicated by its name, is the strongest wear-resisting suit ever placed in the market. It is double-sewed, double-seated and reinforced. The seams are unripable, the buttons cannot be pulled off. It is made of all-wool material in modest pattern, and is the best suit in the world for the money. The only place to get it is of Sam Oppenheimer.

I have also received a full line of School Suits and Pants, to be sold very low.

A large line of Neckwear just arrived, and is now on the counters for sale.

SAM OPPENHEIMER,

Conrad's Block, N. Main St.

CHASE & HUNTER

FOR SALE—Cheap for cash, one of the most desirable corner lots now left, located on east Center street. For sale only for a short time at present price.

FOR SALE—At present we are not very anxious to sell the Boulevard lots, although we have a few very desirable lots there to sell. We understand thatt he Marion Manufacturing company will extend its works back to the railroad with a splendid brick building, and this of itself will add $100 to each lot. Now is a good time for those interested in the west end to take stock in a paying institution that adds such values to their lots.

LOTS in the Hane addition are going. Foundation for one house staked out this morning and another lot ready for one tomorrow morning.

—Sefoto Cail, Hood's flying priest, is at Delaware this week for the purpose of winning first money at the fair races.

—Miss McCarthy, of Dayton, spent Thursday at the home of John Darmody, on north East street. Miss McCarthy and Miss Ward were visiting Delaware friends today.

—The Fostoria Democrat has launched a daily edition, and now three daily papers are in the Fostoria field, seeing which can keep from starving the longest. Fostoria is barely able to support one good daily.

—T. O. McIlvane, one of the finest engineers of the C. and A., has been promoted to a position as traveling engineer. The position is a new one on the road and the company certainly made a wise selection in choosing such a worthy gentleman as Mr. McIlvane

—The members of the Marion and Harbaugh clubs met Tuesday night and elected William Fies captain, Charles Harraman secretary and Jack Thew treasurer. It was decided to largely improve the Miller grounds at once, and give a big tournament some time in September

—The three jolly "old maids" and their friends, excepting those who went to Toledo for an extended tour, have arrived home from their excursion up the Lakes, delighted with the pleasures of the trip. Like all other Ohio delegations they attracted much admiring attention and were always at the front.

—A special train service will be put on the C., H. V. and P. during the Ohio State fair. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 4th, 5th and 6th, a special train will leave Carey at 5:15 a. m., passing Marion at 6:58, and on same dates a special will leave Columbus at 1 p. m., running as far north as Fostoria.

—A dispatch from New York on Tuesday stated that at a meeting of the Hocking Valley stockholders that afternoon, 67,000 shares being represented, a resolution was unanimously passed requesting President Shaw to resign both the presidency and directorship, and the committee was empowered also to request the resignations of Directors W. P. Shaw W. N. Cott and J. A. Moss. It was stated before a vote was called that only 213 shares of stock are now held by the directors whose resignations were requested.

—Almond Fathers, formerly employed in this city as bus driver, is reported as being "behind the bars" at Upper Sandusky. He procured a horse and buggy at Biggs's livery stable Monday afternoon and with Louise Jacobs, an "infatuating" damsel of this city as a companion, drove to Upper Sandusky. After arriving there the pair indulged freely in intoxicants and as a result Almond is cooped for being drunk and disorderly while Louise was allowed to return home with the rig

—Bucyrus Journal: Many farmers in the northern part of Crawford and Seneca counties are planting soft maple along the highway. This is an improvement that is followed up by other residents every few years promises to enhance this section of the country above all others. Our farmers almost to a man live fine buildings and neat farms, and if they line the highways on both sides with lovely shade trees it will greatly enhance their farms and fascinate the eye of every stranger. The trees are being planted about two rods apart.

—Sam Mahaffey was attending the fair at Delaware today

—Miss P. G. Harvey is the guest of friends at Bucyrus.

—Claude Walters returned home today after a visit of a few days at Findlay.

—Miss Josie Breen, of Indianapolis, is the guest of Miss Maggie Breen in this city.

—Miss Laura Hardy and Mrs. Potter have returned to Marion after a pleasant visit at Dayton.

—Mrs. Warren Sadler, of Kansas City, is the guest of Frank R. Sadler and family, on the hill

R. Thompson had his right hand seriously injured by catching a ball at the grounds Tuesday afternoon.

V. B. Kling and Tom Emery arrived home from their northern trip today, having painted Lake Huron a glaring red.

We are pained to chronicle the death of R. Omar Codding, which occurred at Winfield, Kas., from a gun shot wound accidentally inflicted while out hunting. Omar was the youngest son of R. E. Codding, a brother of John Q., George and Arthur, all of whom are known here as residents. He was an unusually brilliant and promising young man. His funeral occurs at Iberia, his old home, Thursday at 1 p.m.

One of the best illustrations of the fact that people's tastes are being educated up to using the finer grades and best brands of groceries is shown by our large and increasing trade in Maynard's fine Mocha and Java, roasted coffees. We receive these coffees direct from the importers and roasters and guarantee them superior to anything in this market.
216-3] THEW & MANZ.

—John Hoberman met with an accident Saturday afternoon, by which he came near losing his life at the Norris & Christian stone quarries, where he is employed. While at work blasting some stone, a charge of powder was ignited and exploded before he was able to reach a place of safety from the falling stone and dirt, thrown into the air by the explosion, and a descending stone struck him upon the head, inflicting a dangerous wound. It was thought at first that his injuries would prove fatal, but medical attendance was at once procured and he is now reported in a favorable condition for recovery.

—The Sault Ste Marie News contained the following last Saturday, under the head of "A Bunch of Old Maids": "A lively lot of young ladies from Ohio came up on the boat early in the week and have since been enjoying themselves, taking in the sights. They call themselves 'Old Maids' and unblushingly travel under that title. Of course, they are young. The friends of Clerk McNabb say that, since the arrival of the party, a great change has come over him. Mac is charged with sprucing up. He also changes his neckwear as often as he takes his meals, and bestows more care upon his bangs. And his smile! It's simply seraphic."

Trouble at the Yards

Owing to considerable dissatisfaction among employes in the C. and A. yards, occasioned by some changes being made in foremanship, a number have resigned their positions, and the condition of affairs has assumed the nature of a small strike.

It appears that the trouble was originated by John McNamee being taken from his position as foreman of engine 7 and given an inferior position with engine 11, which is not as good as his former place. McNamee is an experienced switchman and worthy of promotion, and when the change was made he resigned. A number of yard men have followed the example, but no doubt a settlement that will be satisfactory to all will be made in a few days.

Notice, Mystic Circle.

All members of Marion Ruling of Fraternal Mystic Circle are requested to meet at the hall this evening, at 8 o'clock. Business of importance is to be considered and full attendance desired.

W. C. LINN, W. R.

W. C. T. U.

All members of the W. C. T. U. are requested to be at the meeting Thursday, Aug 29th, 1889 in the Cummin's block.

Normal Notes.

Prof. Yale is at his desk again, after a week's vacation.

Mr. Weston, of Green Camp, enrolled last Monday.

Mr. Dwire couldn't keep awake in class Monday—too much upness Sunday night.

One of the Normal boys called on a druggist, recently, to get a book, when the following conversation took place. Normalite—"Have you Gage's elements of physics?" Druggist—"No, but we have something just as good or maybe better." "Then producing a box of Cathartic pills, "This, I think, sir, you will find much better than Gage's." Normalite willed, and after much effort touched his boarding place, where, by the use of strengthening plasters, he is made a good recovery, and is in regular attendance at his classes.

The Philos will give a free entertainment next Friday evening. Ice cream and an art gallery will be among the attractions.

Mrs. Yale is visiting friends at Prospect.

Prof. Yale will preach at the Regular Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

The Normal Sunday school meets at 2:30 p. m., every Sunday.

JNO. FRASH.

CAUTION W. L. Douglas' name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all Shoes advertised by him before leaving his factory; this protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods. If your dealer does not keep the style or kind you want, or offers you shoes without W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on them, and says they are just as good, do not be deceived thereby, but send direct to the Factory for you can get what you want by return mail, postage paid. Dealers make more profit on unknown shoes that are not warranted by anybody; therefore do not be induced to buy shoes that have no reputation. Buy only those that have W. L. Douglas' name and the price stamped on the bottom, and you are sure to get full value for your money. Thousands of dollars are saved annually in this country by the wearers of W. L. Douglas' Shoes. In ordering by mail state whether you want Congress, Button or Lace, London cap toe, plain French toe, or narrow cap toe, and be sure to give size and width you wear. I can fit any foot that is not deformed, as my shoes are made in a great variety of widths, sizes and half sizes. I guarantee a fit, prompt delivery and perfect satisfaction or money refunded upon return of the shoes in good condition.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Is a fine seamless calf shoe, with Bongola tops and Oak Leather bottoms. They are made in Congress, Button and Lace on London Cap Toe, Narrow Cap Toe, and Plain French Toe Lasts, in sizes from 5 to 11, including half sizes and in all widths. If you have been paying from $3 to $6 for shoes of this quality do not do so longer. One pair will wear as long as two pairs of common shoes sold by dealers that are not warranted by the manufacturer.

Our claims for this shoe over all other $3 shoes advertised, are:

1st. It contains better material.
2d. It is more stylish, better fitting and durable.
3d. It gives better general satisfaction.
4th. It costs more money to make.
5th. It saves more money for the consumer.
6th. It is sold by more dealers throughout the U. S.
7th. It's great success is due to merit.
8th. It cannot be duplicated by any other manufacturer.
9th. It is the best in the world, and has a larger demand than any other $3 shoe advertised.

$5,000 will be paid to any person who will prove the above statements to be untrue.

The Following Lines will be found to be of the Same Quality of Excellence.

$5.00 SHOE GENUINE HAND-SEWED, which takes the place of custom made shoes that cost from $7 to $9

$4.00 SHOE THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY HAND-SEWED WELT $4 SHOE. Equals custom-made shoes costing from $6 to $8.

$3.50 SHOE FOR POLICEMEN. Railroad Men and Letter Carriers all wear them. Smooth inside as a Hand-Sewed Shoe. No Tacks or Wax Thread to hurt the feet

$2.50 SHOE IS UNEXCELLED FOR HEAVY WEAR. Best Calf Shoe for the price.

$2.25 SHOE WORKINGMAN'S. Is the best in the world for rough wear; one pair ought to wear a man a year.

$2.00 SHOE IS EQUAL TO SHOES THAT COST FROM $3 TO $3.50. One pair will wear longer than any shoe ever sold at the price.

$2.00 SHOE FOR BOYS is the best School Shoe in the world.

$1.75 SHOE YOUTH'S SCHOOL, gives the small Boys a chance to wear the best shoes in the world.

All made in Congress, Button and Lace

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 AND $2 SHOES FOR LADIES.

Both Ladies' Shoes are made in sizes from 1 to 7, including half sizes and B, C, D, E and EE widths.

STYLES OF LADIES' SHOES.

"The French Opera," "The Spanish Arch Opera," "The American Common-Sense," "The Medium Common-Sense." All made in Button in the Latest Styles. Also, French Opera in Front Lace, on $3 Shoe only.

Consumers should remember that W. L. DOUGLAS is the largest and only Shoe Manufacturer in the world supplying shoes direct from factory, thus giving all the middle-men's profits to the wearer.
